

Bring Hope Home

Coldwell Banker Bain

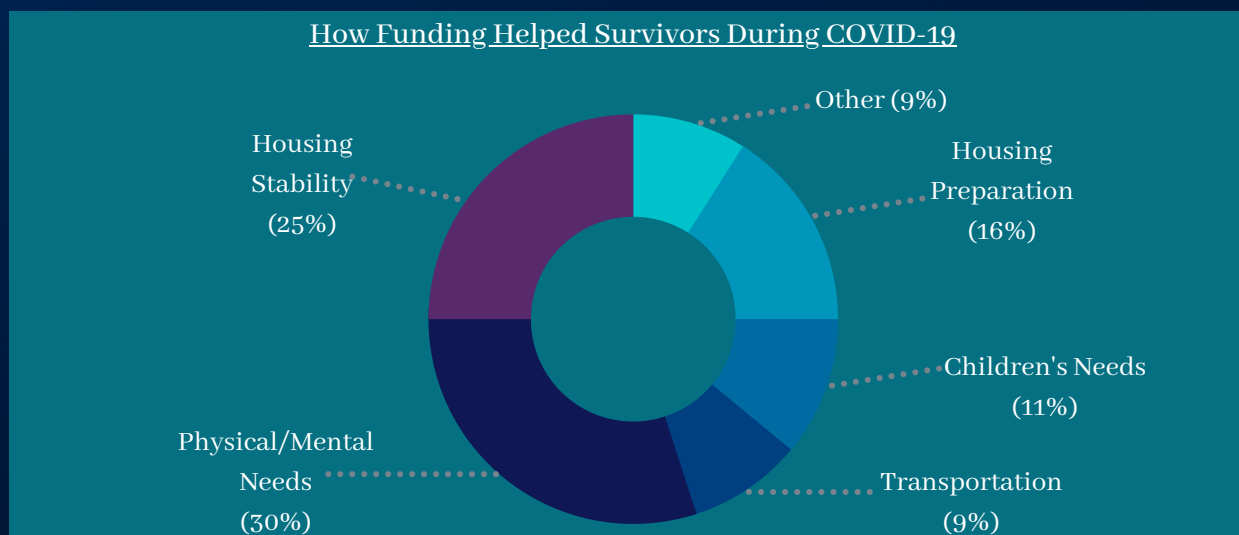

Coldwell Banker Bain's Bring Hope Home program invests flexible financial assistance for survivors of domestic violence in need of a safe, stable housing. In May 2020, Coldwell Banker Bain invested $22,000, benefiting two DV programs in Washington, which provided financial assistance to survivors and their families.

OVERVIEW OF FUNDING

- Total Survivors receiving assistance: 90
- Total disbursements made: 94

How Funding Helped Survivors During COVID-19

"Flexible assistance available allowed us to help our client with her utility bill and ensure her children's education wouldn't be interrupted due to her inability to pay her utilities."

QUOTES FROM SURVIVOR ADVOCATES

"Survivor fled her home with her two children due to emotional and physical violence. Flexible financial assistance allowed us to provide funds for our client to replace birth certificates for her and her family. She will now have the documentation required to apply for housing."

"Flexible financial assistance allowed us to cover some of our client's costs that, if left unpaid, could cause even more hardship such as job loss or loss of a place to live."
