

Providing Health Care to Minors under Washington Law:

A summary of health care services that can be provided to minors without parental consent.

Washington State's general age of majority for health care is 18 (RCW 26.28.010).
However, a minor can receive services without parental consent in the following areas:

Service needed	Minor Consent Sufficient for Confidential care	Parent/ Guardian Consent Required	Parent / Guardian Notification Required	Notes and Source
Emergency medical services:	Yes	No	No	If the parent's consent is not readily available, the consent requirement is satisfied and the minor can receive medical services. RCW 7.70.050(4).
Non-emergency medical services:	No, unless Mature Minor Doctrine applies	Yes, unless minor meets Mature Minor Doctrine	No	If it is not a medical emergency or one of the types of services listed below, minors may still give a valid consent under the "Mature Minor Doctrine" if they are capable of understanding or appreciating the consequences of a medical procedure. In determining whether the patient is a mature minor, providers will evaluate the minor's age, intelligence, maturity, training, experience, economic independence or lack thereof, general conduct as an adult and freedom from the control of parents.
Immunizations:	No, unless Mature Minor Doctrine applies	Yes, unless minor meets Mature Minor Doctrine	No	Minors may receive immunizations without parental consent under the Mature Minor Doctrine summarized above.
Sexually transmitted disease testing/ treatment (including HIV):	Yes, if \pm 14	No	No	Minors may obtain tests and/or treatment for sexually transmitted diseases if they are 14 years of age or older without the consent of a parent or guardian. RCW 70.24.110. ♦ Some agencies, such as Public Health – Seattle & King County , will test/treat individuals regardless of age due to mandate to prevent /control the spread of communicable disease.
